TACOMA MEN TO VISIT ALASKA

Referring editorially to the Tacoma business men's excursion to Alaska, the Tacoma Tribune says:

"Plans are now being matured by the Tacoma Chamber of Commerce whereby a number of local business men will go to Alaska this summer on a 'get acquainted' excursion, the purpose being to extend Tacoma's trade territory to the northland. The project is a commendable one and should be given hearty support by the business men and merchantile interests of Tacoma.

"During last March the exports and imports between Alaska and Puget Sound ports amounted to about $1,400,000 and the great bulk of this commerce went to Seattle. Tacoma, the only city in the northwest so situated as to be a geographical rival with Seattle for the Alaska trade, is not getting its share of the business. The Alaskan trade made Seattle and is still materially contributing to its prosperity.

"Tacoma is entitled to a fair share of this commerce by every trade law, and if the business interests of this town made a concerted effort to capture a portion of the Alaskan commerce it could be done, for there is no denying the fact that throughout the northland a general feeling of hostility exists toward Seattle which could be made capital of by any competent city, and Seattle does not fight fairly. According to the newspapers of that city one would think the steamer Northwestern landed its copper ore in Seattle instead of at the Tacoma smelters. Tacoma must fight such tactics.

"Alaska is yet undeveloped and its trade possibilities are just commencing to be realized. The 'treasure chest' of the nation is far from being drained and in future

Big Snow Slide at Jumbo Mine

Late Thursday night the mail boat reached Ketchikan and reported that a huge snow slide had swept over the Jumbo mine destroying the dining room and cook house, also staving in the compressor completely.

The dead are F. T. Figg, engineer and John Thomas, miner. Several were seriously injured but as yet the number has not been ascertained as the rescuers were still at work when the mail boat left. The launch Rough Rider left Ketchikan at once for the scene of disaster with full supplies and with orders to convey all injured to the hospital.

Work at Full Capacity

The local shingle mill reports that business will be very good this summer. Already the mill is running at full capacity. This is not at all surprising as the shingles turned out are second to none on the Pacific coast.

The first big shipment was made to the P. C. & N. P. Co. of Petersburg, on Friday last, on the Toledo. She took 266,000 feet in all.

Notice to Citizens

I would request your earnest co-operation to assist the Health Committee for a clean town.

And to attain those results I request all parties concerned to clean up at once their back yards of all empty cans and other refuse. As the accumulation of same with the advent of dry weather is a menace to the good health of the town. I trust that you will take prompt action in this matter without action by the Committee.

P. C. McCORMACK,
Mayor.

Anniversary

Next Sunday will be the anniversary of the first service at St. Philip's Church in the present church building. The theme of the address will be "Mission Work at Home."

Notice

A reward of five dollars will be given for information of any person defacing or tearing down any notice posted by the Health Committee.

P. C. McCORMACK,
Mayor.

NEW SIDE WALK TO CEMETERY

The initial step towards making the sidewalk a reality was made on Saturday at the Red Men's Hall. In view of the large turnout to the social and entertainment the people demonstrated their interest in the matter.

Heretofore, the walk has loomed up almost too large to be a possibility but every day it becomes a more easily supplied necessity.

The following estimates were made by interested parties and are conservative. The total distance is 4,750 feet. The cost of a gravel walk with a cement and rock wall on the lower or bay side of the worst places and a ditch for draining will be $1,200. Ten culverts for drainage will be needed. The cost of cement will not exceed $75, this leaves $1,125 for labor. The walk could not be made better without a cement surface and this can be added as the fund grows.

The danger and inconvenience of the present method of getting to the cemetery is too well known to repeat here and it is hoped that the work on the walk will be commenced soon.

HAROLD F. DAWES, Editor and Proprietor.

Published at Wrangell, Alaska, every Thursday Afternoon

Entered as Second Class Matter, at the Wrangell, Alaska, Postoffice, under Act of Congress of March 3, 1879

$2.50 per year in advance, otherwise $3.00 Foreign Countries 50c extra

When a man is elected to act in public office, he is generally expected to state the policy which he intends to pursue. As I am to work here in a public way, it is reasonable that the community expect some statement as to the policy I will follow, but owing to my inexperience, of which you have been informed and will, from time to time, perceive it is difficult to state positively what course I will follow, but there are several things which, with the co-operation of the people of Wrangell, I hope to do, the most important of which are: To boost Alaska in general and Wrangell in particular; To furnish the interesting and current news to readers; To give tradespeople a better advertising medium; And to increase both the size of the sheet and its circulation.

All of these are worthy and with your co-operation, I trust are possible.

HAROLD F. DAWES.

The Juneau and Skagway ball teams have been practicing for two weeks. When does the Wrangell bunch go into training?

Chief Forester, Graves, expects Congress will pass bills that will permit of power sites being leased for a reasonable term of years. Let's hope our Chief is not expecting too much.

Get out your Panama and brush it up.

There are a few things that this town needs and among them you will notice a laundry and a baseball club.

"It may be far reached to criticize the action of Washington authorities in ordering vaccination of all Alaska bound passengers, when the order may be for the general good of the north, but what the Alaskans do object to is the concealing of the threatened disease and where it is prevailing.

Alaska has no epidemic, and why tourists and others should be scared from Alaska to conceal the real location of an epidemic is something mysterious. It fully demonstrates the long-shot government from Washington so pleasing to the tory element in Alaska, who fear legislation by honest Alaskans, elected by the people of Alaska. As long as home rule is kept from Alaska, just so long will the industries of the north suffer from such ill-advised and vicious regulations."—Dispatch.

Some people wouldn't go to the cemetery while living, but if there was a ball park down that way—

Entertainment Coming

Miss Ethel Grey who is on her Alaska-Yukon tour will entertain here in the near future. Miss Grey is a very pleasing entertainer in national costume dances, songs and recitations. She also carries a splendid line of moving pictures.

generations it will continue to pour an ever-increasing stream of wealth into the northwest, so that it behooves Tacoma's business interests to bestir themselves and make an effort to divert this trade, which has heretofore been enjoyed almost exclusively by Seattle, to this city. The reward will be rich if this is done.

"The 'get acquainted' excursion is a means toward this end which would not only open the eyes of many business men to the vast trade possibilities of Alaska, but would advertise Tacoma throughout the northland and assure Alaskans of our interest in their development.

"It is planned to charter a special steamer for the trip and if 100 can be induced to go the cost of the round trip will not exceed $100 and, aside from the commercial benefit, solely as a pleasure trip, this voyage cannot be excelled anywhere in the world for the same amount of money. The proposal of the Chamber of Commerce should meet with hearty response"

The Northern Light and the Stikeen raced in from the fishing grounds Saturday with capacity loads. The honors were about evenly divided.
